

Don't Buy Crime

This Atlanta Police Zone One Initiative tackles the cycle of crime initiated by people who buy stolen goods, whether knowingly or by turning their back on the truth.

Stolen goods markets motivate thieves because most thieves steal to sell goods for cash. When you buy stolen goods you help keep these markets thriving. The proceeds from crimes such as burglaries, shop-lifting, theft from vehicles, and robberies fund additional crimes, most frequently drug trade. "Don't Buy Crime" is about breaking the cycle, in other words, directly tackling the markets where these goods are sold and the crimes associated with these markets.

Say "NO" to Stolen Goods

"If the price is too good to be true, it's possibly stolen goods"
Don't be a partner to crime.
